

Another U.S. Failure in Nuclear Test

B. JAMES LAGIER
HONOLULU (AP)—The United States failed Monday night for the fourth time in five tries to detonate a nuclear device at high altitude above Johnston Island—and again a missile was to blame.

The Atomic Energy Commission said the failure was due to a malfunction in the Thor booster carrying the sub-megaton device to its firing altitude of 30 to 40 miles. The range safety officer deliberately destroyed the missile eight minutes after it was launched.

Debris from the rocket and nuclear warhead fell harmlessly into the ocean within a predesignated safety zone away from Johnston and adjacent Sand Island, the AEC said. An announcement said there was no nuclear detonation and no danger to persons on the islands.

An AEC spokesman said the tests would be rescheduled. He said other missiles would be used to launch two other devices in other tests.

One test will use a Nike-Hercules rocket and the other a specially constructed booster with the booster from a surface-to-surface missile. Use of these missiles would indicate the two shots will be fired at relatively low altitudes because neither has the necessary thrust to carry their payloads to great heights.

The failure was another blow to United States missile prestige and an embarrassing disappointment to scientists and technicians at Johnston Island. Only one shot from Johnston in the current series has been successful—on July 8 when a giant thermonuclear device was detonated at an altitude of 210 miles.

Monday night's flop followed one 24-hour delay because of bad weather. The schedule went forward Monday night toward its planned firing time of 9:30 p.m. (2:30 a.m. EST today). Radio monitors picked up a voice from Johnston saying "liftoff, liftoff."

Then, eight minutes later, the same voice screamed, "negative, negative!"

The test was designed to probe the ionosphere and Van Allen radiation belts and determine whether such explosions could be used to mask sneak missile attempts.

U.S. Asking That Barnett Be Fined

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department asked today that Mississippi Gov. Ross R. Barnett be fined $100,000 for failing to purge himself of contempt of court.

The department official said the move, made in a brief filed with the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans, La., also included a request that Barnett be fined an additional $10,000 a day until he complies with court orders.

The court was told Barnett had partly purged himself by personally arranging for James H. Meredith and federal officers to enter the University of Mississippi without interference from state officials.

But the department continued, the governor failed to instruct state officials to preserve law and order, as required by the court in connection with Meredith's admission as a student to the university.

U.S. Plane Shot Down in Viet Nam

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Communist guerrillas shot down a U.S. spotter plane and a U.S. Air Force fighter in South Viet Nam's central highlands Monday and Tuesday.

Three Americans aboard the spotter plane were killed.

The pilot of the T28 fighter rode his plane down and was thrown out when it hit and exploded. He was injured only slightly.

The identities of the Americans were not announced.

An earlier report said the fighter plane belonged to the Vietnamese air force, but later it was learned it was American and that the U.S. Air Force has one squadron of single-engine T28s in Viet Nam.

This was the first indication that U.S. combat planes were in action against the Communist Viet Cong.

In the past, U.S. Air Force pilots have flown combat missions in Vietnamese air force planes in air strikes against the guerrillas.

Guerrillas opened up on the hovering L28 spotter plane late Monday on the government raid on Viet Cong positions in mountainous jungle 10 miles north of Ban Me Thuot.

The fighter plane flew into the area today to give air support to ground forces protecting the wreckage of the spotter plane and bodies of the Americans. American sources said the ground party made contact with the Communists late today and killed two of the Reds.

More Freedom Riders Leave

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Two more members of the Williams family of Huttig left Little Rock Monday for Hyannis, Mass., as reverse "Freedom Riders."

Betty Williams, five-months pregnant, and her two-year-old son, Sherman, boarded a bus on a ticket paid for by the Capital Citizens Council.

Betty is the daughter of Lela Mae Williams, who left May 20 with nine small children. Another daughter, Gloria Dean Williams, and two of her children left Oct. 5. Amis Guthridge, council president, paid $51.26 for Betty's ticket. She and her son are the 61st and 62nd reverse riders sent north or west by the CCC.

The other members of the Williams family are now living at Newberry Port, Mass., near Hyannis.

U.S. Seeks to Fine Barnett $100,000

By CARL LEUBSDORF

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A federal appeals court may rule later this week on the Justice Department's request that it fine Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett $100,000 for his actions in the James H. Meredith case.

Attaches of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals said it was unlikely any decision would come before Wednesday. Two panels of the court are hearing cases this week in Atlanta and Montgomery, Ala.

They will receive copies of briefs filed Monday by the Justice Department and the state of Mississippi. The state claimed the appeals court no longer had jurisdiction in the case.

Both Barnett and Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson Jr. have been found guilty of contempt by the court for their part in attempting to block the enrollment of Meredith, a Negro, at the University of Mississippi. But no sanctions have been put into effect against the two officials.

When the officials were convicted, the court set possible penalties at a $10,000 daily fine and imprisonment for Barnett and a $5,000 daily fine for Johnson.

The Justice Department's latest request made no mention of Johnson.

Mrs. Constance Baker Motley, attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, told the court both the governor and lieutenant-governor should be imprisoned until they promise to obey the court's orders.

At the university, the student cabinet issued a statement urging an end to student demonstrations against Meredith, first Negro admitted knowingly to the university in its 114-year history.

The statement adopted by the cabinet of nine students condemned also "the forced admission of an unqualified student," the statement did not explain why the cabinet considers Meredith an unqualified student.

Meredith, meanwhile, started his third week of classes without incident. Only one Justice Department attorney was with him at the university cafeteria Monday night.

UN Praises Signing of Cease-Fire

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The signing of a cease-fire between Congolese national army and Katanga gendarmerie was hailed at the United Nations today as an encouraging sign of progress toward unification of the Congo.

Prospects of a cease-fire led U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson to tell President Kennedy on Sunday that there was "some hope of a solution to the problem in the Congo."

Some African delegates criticized him as painting too bright a picture.

A spokesman for the U.S. delegation expressed gratification over the cease-fire, but noted that there is still a long way to go before actual unity is achieved.

A U.N. spokesman took a similar view. He expressed hope that the cease-fire would be implemented, permitting both sides to continue the negotiations on putting into effect Acting Secretary-General U. Thant's plan for reunifying secessionist Katanga.

Experts Meet on Mental Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—A panel of experts gave President Kennedy today a proposed plan for a broad attack on mental retardation, which affects three out of 100 Americans.

About 20 of the 27 panel members named by the President to make the special study delivered their report to Kennedy. He received it without comment.

Knew Castro Was a Red Back in '58

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate Internal Security subcommittee report says a State Department official became an active apologist for Fidel Castro despite adverse intelligence reports available to him.

The official, William Wieland, told friends as early as 1958 that Castro was a Communist, was surrounded by Communists and was subject to their influence, the report said. It added that he failed to report this to his superiors.

Wieland was a foreign service officer who was a Latin-American and Caribbean specialist during Castro's rise to power in Cuba. He now is in the State Department's Bureau of Administration.

President Kennedy defended Wieland and another State Department employee at a Jan. 24 news conference, after a reporter referred to them as "well-known security risks." Kennedy said he knew their records and felt they could do their jobs "without detriment to the interest of the United States and I hope without detriment to their character by your question."

The subcommittee report, issued Monday, noted that Deputy Undersecretary of State Roger Jones told newsmen afterward that Wieland had been cleared of security allegations involving integrity and suitability.

Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., said in a supplementary statement that "the plain truth is that the U.S. Department of State was the principal collaborator in creating the vacuum into which Fidel Castro stepped."

The State Department had no immediate comment and Wieland was not available.

Seeking to Curb Power of Boards

By BRYAN HAISLIP

MONTREAT, N.C. (AP)—Overseas churches are seeking to lessen the authority of mission boards of the U.S. church bodies which founded them, three mission leaders agreed Monday.

The three participants in a consultation on world missions here agreed that one of the pressing problems is whether to accede to their request for greater independence.

Complicating the issue is the feeling on the part of many missionaries that ties with mission boards must be maintained.

The consultation, attended by church leaders from all continents will prepare recommendations for the sponsoring Board of World Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. Five committees, holding closed sessions through Wednesday will report Thursday and Friday.

A cautioning voice against cutting loose indigenous churches was raised by Dr. Harold John Ockenga of Boston, Mass., church leader and zealous supporter of world missions.

His address to the consultation also included sharp criticism of the National Council of Churches and the ecumenical movement, which he said it endorses.

He asserted that the council has "shown a tendency towards disparagement of doctrines. . . ."

At a news conference following his speech, Dr. James A. Millard Jr., stated clerk of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S., questioned Dr. Ockenga's statement that the national council had "berated heresies with the authority." Dr. Millard said he felt "it was not altogether responsible to make such statement."

Some 650 Future Homemakers will gather on the Henderson State Teachers College campus Friday, October 19, for the theme of the meeting will be "Guided Progress" with Nancy Hilberry, Prescott, president, presiding.

Ellen Kennedy of Laneburg is reporter and Mrs. Elizabeth Hallom of Prescott is a faculty advisor.

FTA members from Blevins, Badway, Hope, Laneburg, Prescott, Willisville, Spring Hill, Gale, Emmet and Willisville will be on hand.

The radio signal continues to be good.

Legislature Picked Out Amendment

(Editors' note: This is the second in a series of articles discussing constitutional amendments and acts to be voted on in the Nov. 6 general election.)

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Amendment 51 might be called the stepchild among the five constitutional proposals to be voted on.

No organized group is pushing it. None is opposing it. The 1961 Legislature chose it as one of three each General Assembly can put on the ballot and it was promptly forgotten.

The proposal is short and simple. It states that no Arkansas child shall be denied a free public education for refusal to attend at three each General Assembly can prove to the school board's satisfaction that to do so would be harmful to his or her welfare.

The amendment was introduced with the backing of Gov. Orval E. Faubus. Legislators greeted it warmly.

Reds Fire on India Positions

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—An India spokesman reported that Red Chinese troops fired on an Indian position on the northeast border early today.

"Our troops returned the fire. The Chinese withdrew leaving behind one dead who was buried by our troops," the spokesman said. It was the first fighting reported since last Wednesday's battle in which there were almost 100 Chinese and Indian casualties, including 22 Chinese killed.

Both sides have been building up troop strength, according to reliable sources.

Three other members of the Hope Student Council, Carter Hardage, Sammy Strong and George Jones, along with faculty advisor, Mrs. W. A. Williams, will attend the conference.

Withdraws From School in Virginia

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—The University of Virginia announced today that a Negro girl who enrolled in its Patrick Henry branch at Martinsville last week has withdrawn.

The official statement said: "Hazel Ruth Adams withdrew Monday from Patrick Henry branch of the University of Virginia School of General Studies after one day of classes. She told Dr. Sherman Dutton, director of the branch, that she wanted to return to Virginia State College, which she had entered in September before transferring to the Patrick Henry branch last Friday. Miss Adams' letter of withdrawal was received and accepted Tuesday by university officials in Charlottesville."

"Her letter said that after enrolling in classes at the branch, she found that the classes she had been taking at Virginia State were better for her intended course of study. Her letter said she planned to return to Virginia State Tuesday."

Miss Adams had been the first of her race to sit in a classroom with white students in Virginia's staunchly segregationist south.

She had registered Friday and attended her first classes Monday at Patrick Henry.

No incidents were reported and the Negro girl had reported "everything was fine."

Suit Demands Recall of Amendment 50

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A former Independence County judge filed a suit in Pulaski Chancery Court today to recall proposed Amendment 50 from the Nov. general election ballot.

The suit, filed by Forrest Jeffery of Batesville, asks that if it is too late to withdraw the amendment from the ballot, that it be declared null and void if it is passed.

The suit called the title of the proposed amendment misleading and said it does not fairly state the purpose of the act. Jeffery said the title conveys a false idea as to what the act would do.

Amendment 50 would remove the ceiling on the amount of taxing for bonded indebtedness a city could levy, would permit a city to levy varied types of taxes and would reduce the number of justices of the peace.

The ballot title for the amendment is: "Right to Vote, Public Improvement Amendment."

The suit says that the proposal would not give the public the right to vote for public improvements, but would grant cities and towns the power to levy taxes of any type or amount, unrestricted by the constitution or legislature.

The suit asks the court to require Secretary of State Nancy Hall to recall the amendment from the ballot if it is possible.

The suit also contends that publication of the amendment did not meet requirements of state law and cannot legally become part of the constitution. It said the proposal was published in state newspapers in too-small type and more than six months before the date of the election.

Jeffery served five terms as Independence County judge.

Cubans Plan Welcome for Algerian

By GEORGE ARFELD

HAVANA (AP)—The Castro regime called out thousands of Cubans to give a massive welcome today to Premier Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria.

The 45-year-old Algerian leader flies here from Washington, where he reviewed world problems, including Cuba, with President Kennedy.

A spokesman for Ben Bella denied reports that the Algerian leader will try to mediate between the United States and Cuba during his Havana visit.

Cuban students, workers and others were told to line the route between Havana's airport and the capital. The Communist newspaper Hoy published detailed instructions to citizens of various quarters of greater Havana on where to take positions along the highway.

Billboards greeting Ben Bella in Spanish and Arabic were erected along the four-lane highway. They carried large likenesses of Ben Bella and Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, plus the flags of the two nations.

Ben Bella is expected to spend at least 48 hours on the island nation and to confer with Castro.

President Kennedy toasted Ben Bella at a White House luncheon Monday as a man "who has borne heavy burdens and bears them now with distinction."

In reply, Ben Bella paid tribute to "political courage which has more meaning than physical courage, because it is easier sometimes to display physical courage than the political kind." This was a reference to Kennedy's support, while a U.S. senator, of Algerian independence.

The Artless Heiress

by Clarence Budington Kelland

By Clarence Budington Kelland
THE STORY: Columbine Pepper Druggot, somewhat sheltered secretary of a girls' school, has inherited a swank motel in Arizona.

Mr. Hooper recovered himself. "Miss Druggot," he asked, "is it your intention to endeavor to carry out the conditions of the testator?"

"Sir," responded Columbine, "as Guinevere Hamilton, also aged 10, would phrase it when not cramped by the presence of instructors, I'll give it the old college try."

"But a motor court!" exclaimed Egeria Cordwainer. "It sounds common. After all, Columbine, remember that you are a gentleman of culture."

"After all," Columbine replied, "up to now, I never have been anything but a gentleman of culture. There might be other social classifications that I would enjoy more keenly. What is the value of this motor court?"

"For inheritance-tax purposes," the lawyer said, "the place has been appraised at $500,000."

Columbine arched her brows. Mr. Hooper cleared his throat. "I am instructed by my Phoenix correspondent to supply you with transportation to that city and with ample funds for the journey. When would you care to start, Miss Druggot?"

"Forthwith," said Columbine firmly.

What little Columbine knew of travel she had learned from the prattle of girls under 10 years of age or by adroitly questioning them about such an adventurous thing. Most of her informants took it for granted that human beings always went from place to place by air, but some of them had found it necessary from time to time to utilize so antiquated a mode of transportation as a train. Such facts as they imparted were of slight use to Columbine, because they took it for granted that anyone must know such elementary facts as the habits and uses of Pullman porters; and that no lady ever assumed any responsibility, but assumed that railroad people would pamper her; and that meals were served in drawing rooms and not in public diners.

She sat now in the cramped space of a roomette and was alarmed by its various gadgets. The bed, when lowered, would occupy all the space, which presented problems. The porter had taken her new piece of airplane luggage with the red stripes around it and had hidden it away someplace, leaving her only her hand-

"Scotch on the stones," said Columbine.

In moments the glass arrived. Columbine eyed it with misgiving, but with what she considered the nonchalance of a veteran drinker she raised it to her lips and took a generous swallow. Nothing but iron self-control prevented catastrophe. Not only was the taste of the liquid abhorrent but it burned like fire; it gagged her; it choked her.

"Your favorite drink, I presume?" said the gentleman in the next chair.

Columbine struggled for breath. She could not have spoken had her life depended upon it. Gradually the spasm subsided and the discomfort abated.

"That," said the gentleman in the next chair, "is what I call heroism."

"How dare you?" she said, "I do not permit myself to be raised up by strangers on a train."

"That one escapes me," said the young man gravely. "Raised up! A much more elite phrase than the one in common use. 'Picked up' is definitely less eligible."

Grimly Columbine emptied her glass. Though her ideas of decorum compelled her to pretend to be outraged, she found she rather enjoyed what undoubtedly was a dangerous adventure. Besides, she was aware of a pleasant and unaccustomed warmth and of a desire to giggle. She got up suddenly to remove herself from the dangerous presence, and found it difficult to balance herself, for the train was making speed and the cars swayed.

It seemed there was but one vacant seat, and that at a table for four midway down the car. The seat next the window was occupied by a woman clinging to middle age precariously. Hers was a noble bosom and above it an equally noble series of chins. Her massive wrists were circled by a series of jeweled bracelets, and there was a profusion of rings set with assorted gems of astonishing size. With big blue eyes she took stock of Columbine, and then took a second look, as if she could not believe what she had seen at first.

Across the table from this be-jeweled amazon sat a mousy youngish man with thick-lensed glasses and a meek expression, like that of a pet white rabbit. He was, thought Columbine in her elated state, utterly negligible.

Directly across from her sat a round-faced gentleman of the cloth. He smiled at Columbine in a kindly paternal manner.

Columbine studied the menu and wrote her order.

"Whoops, dearie!" exclaimed the glittering woman at her left. "You keep on stuffing like that and they'll be calling you Two-Ton Tessie."

"My name," said Columbine, "is not Tessie."

"A gobble by any other name can get just as fat," the bosomy woman rejoined. "Now take him," she piped, indicating the young man with the glasses. "You got ulcers, haven't you, mister?"

"I have ulcers!" snapped the young man.

"And a bad disposition," said the lady. She fixed her bulging blue eyes on the clergyman. "Now you," she said, "you got nothing but a clear conscience and a good appetite, and you don't care how fat you get."

The rector smiled with gentle amiability, but made no retort.

"My name," the lady with the Sept. 26, is not as well as in re-carrot hair said sociably, "is cent days, the hospital reported Roxy Thistlethum. Most folks call today."

me Madame Roxy . . . What's your name?" she demanded of the young man opposite.

"Artemus Thumb," he answered testily.

"What's your racket?" He peered through his slabs of lenses owlishly. "I am a member of the faculty of Columbia, at present devoting my sabbatical to preparing a thesis for my master's degree."

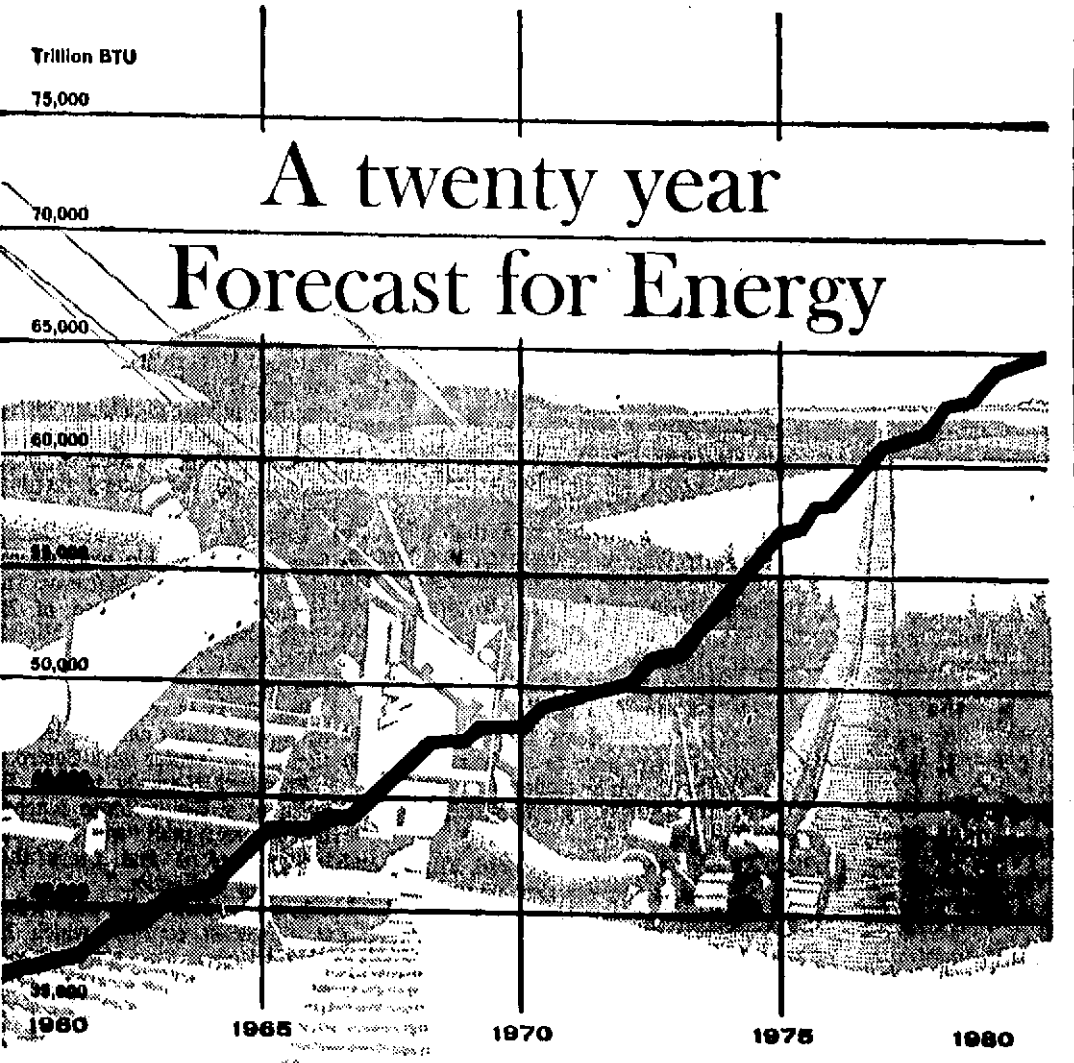

"Well, butter my parsnips!" Madame exclaimed. "My name is Columbine Pepper Druggot," said Columbine.

"School teacher?" the woman asked.

"I own and operate," Columbine said sturdily, "a motor hotel."

"Now," squeaked Madame incredulously, "I've heard everything! You run a motor hotel! What kind of guests you have, eh? Fugitives from a bargain basement?"

Dangerous Rays Are Plentiful

WASHINGTON (AP) — The intensity of potentially dangerous gamma rays in interplanetary space probably is as much as 10 times higher than had been anticipated, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said today.

The agency based its new estimate on analysis of data from instruments aboard the Ranger III lunar spacecraft launched last Jan. 26.

NASA said the gamma ray measurements were scientifically important but of no significance for current manned spacecraft, and there is no indication of a need for greater radiation protection aboard U.S. spacecraft.

Later this week, possibly Tuesday, Ranger V will be launched in an attempt to take television pictures of the moon and land an instrument package on the moon's surface.

Ranger IV, launched April 23, hit the moon after a 64-hour flight. Ranger III, designed to land an instrument capsule on the moon and to take television pictures of the approach to the moon missed its lunar target and went into orbit around the sun instead.

Gamma rays, a form of electromagnetic radiation, are similar to X-rays but of shorter wave length. They are emitted by certain radioactive elements. They also are produced artificially in nuclear reactors and atomic explosions.

They Can't Live on Love Alone

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: My world crashed tonight. The boy I love told me it was all off between us. "I'm a no-good," he said. "Can't even get a job." Suppose he didn't have a car, couldn't afford to take me out or shower me with presents like he dreamed of doing. I was happy just sitting at home with him. He shook his head. "I'm not going to have you or our children running around half-starved and in rags, which is what you would be doing if you marry me. You can't live on love. Marry a man with money. Good-bye!" He quit school at the eighth grade and, not being a trained, finds it hard to get a steady job. Surely, if we love each other enough we can work something out. I long to help him. How can I? —Desperate

Dear Desperate: True education is development of the individual through his or her own efforts. Unless your boy friend has the gumption to push on and up, he is finished as of now. What he needs is a good pep talk. Tell him the rougher the going, the greater his achievement in the end. To become a strong character worthy of your love, he must learn to overcome difficulties on one progresses without effort.

What if he did quit school at the eighth grade. Only a weakling would use that as an alibi. A scholastic education, though important, is not always an open sesame. My husband graduated from Yale as a geologist at the height of a depression. All the big mining companies he queried were laying off instead of taking on men. Finally, in desperation, he took a job unloading bales of reinforced concrete rods. His college degree counted for nothing but the fact that he had played on the football team did, for his muscles were developed. The pay was $2.69 for a 12-hour day.

Dear Helen: In-law problems which frequently appear in your column interest my husband and myself very much. We come from large families and have many relatives.

Congress Is Sputtering to a Close

By LARRY OSIUS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 87th Congress sputtered to adjournment over the weekend, signaling the beginning of a political tug of war over its record that will continue through the Nov. 6 general election.

During its longest session since 1951, Congress gave President Kennedy part of what he asked, considerably altered some of his requests, and completely blanketed the administration on three major programs.

Congress supported the president on his foreign policy requests.

In addition it gave him substantially what he asked for in the Reciprocal Trade Expansion Act, aid for depressed areas, manpower retraining program, postal rate and federal employee pay increases and increased minimum wages.

His incentive tax exemption and strict farm production control programs were approved in part. But Congress turned a deaf ear to administration requests for federal aid to schools and colleges, health insurance for the aged financed through higher social security taxes and establishment of a department of urban affairs.

The final week saw congress trying desperately to pass a comparatively few appropriation and authorization measures in the face of a revived prestige battle between the House and Senate.

Sunday, less than 24 hours after both houses adjourned the Republican leaders issued a statement blasting three 87th as a congress which accomplished little and mismanaged much.

In the statement Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and his House counterpart, Charles Halleck of Indiana, placed much of the blame on Kennedy.

They said Kennedy saddled Congress with too many requests most of which were aimed at "spending more money or concentrating more power in the federal government."

Whatever else may be said of the 87th, it was the third largest spender in congressional history with a total of $101.3 billion appropriated for current and future fiscal years. This was exceeded only by the wartime $147 billion of 1942 and $115 billion of 1943.

Still, this year's total was about $3.8 billion less than Kennedy has asked.

The question of house-senate prestige was very much in evidence in the closing days.

Does the House have the exclusive right to initiate appropriations measures? The House said yes, the Senate said no.

The hassle reached a climax Friday when Rep. Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., veteran House Appropriations Committee chairman, demanded a roll call in an attempt to defeat a $205,000 survey item which the Senate had tacked onto the $5-billion public works appropriation measure.

Cannon lost the vote, but it disclosed what house leaders had tried to avert all week—lack of a quorum due to the exodus home of members anxious to get started on their election campaigns.

Leaders of both houses hammered out a compromise late Friday night.

The House passed the $5-billion public works appropriation measure, but sidetracked a $550-million supplemental appropriation, which included funds for increased pensions for retired federal employees. Cannon had vowed to block the latter measure by a parliamentary maneuver.

Astronaut Pays Visit to President

By JOHN A. BARBOUR

WASHINGTON (AP)—Astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. talked over details of his six-orbit ride around the earth with President Kennedy today. The Schirra family watched with beaming smiles.

The conference in the President's White House office had a homey touch, with family small-talk as well as discussions of Schirra's space achievements. The four Schirras sat on a white sofa, the President in his rocking chair.

Schirra's son, Walter III, who is 12, left with the President's tieclip as a gift, and his sister had a new chain bracelet.

Suzanne, 5, looked shyly at the President and said, "I know who you are."

At one point Kennedy asked Suzanne if she had seen the ponies kept at the White House for the Kennedy children. She shook her head no, and the President took her and the family out to see the ponies.

Later, talking to newsmen, Schirra said he expected to return to Houston, Tex., tonight and to fly to Cape Canaveral, Fla., Wednesday. There he will complete a written report on his nine-hour space flight and turn his attention to space flight, Gemini.

Schirra's wife watched quietly while her husband talked with the President. The two red-haired children beamed with pride and excitement.

The President asked Schirra's son where he went to school, and was obviously taken with the charms of little Suzanne. He asked her if she watched her father's space flight and she nodded yes. He asked her age and she showed him five fingers of her left hand.

The brief White House visit followed a wild confetti-strewn welcome Monday in Schirra's native New Jersey.

Seeks to See Acreage Record

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Farmer James Weir of Dermott was permitted to see all allotment records except those declared confidential by federal law, Asst. U.S. Atty. James Gallman said Monday.

Gallman made this assertion in an answer filed in U.S. District Court to Weir's petition asking that the Agriculture Department be required to show him whatever records he needs to see to further his fight for higher acreage allotments.

Gallman asked the court to disallow the petition and uphold a 23.9-acre rice allotment given Weir by the Chicot County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Weir has paid several heavy fines for overplanting rice. His farm was sold at auction early this year to satisfy several judgments against him.

Catholics May Change Marriage Law

By JOHN GALE

ROME (AP)—Reliable sources say the Roman Catholic Church ecumenical council, Vatican II, may dispense with the pledges it demands of non-Catholics who marry Catholics.

The sources said there also is talk of the Church giving status and recognition for the first time to other denominations and ending the traditionally aloof attitude of the Church of Rome.

Protestant groups have been working quietly for a revision of the Catholic attitude on both these points, regarded as wounding by other Christian churches.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Michael Ramsey, last week referred to the conditions imposed for mixed marriages as "very painful" to practicing Anglicans.

thinking of the Catholic invitation to the non-Catholic husband or wife to abandon his faith and the insistence that children of mixed marriages must be brought up as Catholics.

Informed sources said the council also will review the system of allowing only a shortened service for mixed marriages. These sources said use of the full Roman Catholic liturgy may be authorized.

To many observers here, the most fascinating aspect of the council is the change it represents between Pope John XXIII and other Christian leaders have rarely been more cordial.

Adenauer Has Own Idea About Berlin

By ENDRE MARTON

WASHINGTON (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer does not fully share the U.S. view that Russia will create a new Berlin crisis before the end of the year, Gerhard Schroeder, Bonn's foreign minister, has to see Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

In reporting this, diplomatic observers said Bonn is somewhat baffled by the virtually unanimous prediction of Kennedy administration officials that Soviet Premier Khrushchev means it this time when he says that Western occupation of West Berlin must be liquidated after the U.S. congressional elections next month.

Schroeder's spokesman, Hans Hille, told newsmen after the German foreign minister met with Rusk for more than two hours Monday that Bonn believes the Russians "did not determine yet what course to take," that they are still "going around," and that Khrushchev's threats are part of the psychological warfare being fought over the Berlin issue.

There was no indication that Schroeder's report changed Washington thinking in this respect. On the day of his conference with Rusk a high ranking administration official restated the view so often repeated in the West that the Berlin crisis will be a first-class crisis between now and Christmas.

One authoritative U.S. source said Monday night that if the Berlin crisis is intensified after the November elections, there is the possibility of a U.S. military buildup.

Last summer, when Berlin tensions reached a high pitch, the United States mustered about 150,000 reservists. President Kennedy has a go-ahead sign to take similar steps again if he deems necessary.

Khrushchev has been demanding for four years that the Western Allies accept a new status for West Berlin and abandon their occupation role. In recent months he has stepped up his threat to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany and turn over full control of Western access routes to Berlin to the East Germans.

The signing of a Soviet-East German peace treaty would not, in itself, be a cause of war, U.S. officials agree. But they say any attempt to interfere with Western rights would be met by all available means, including nuclear arms, if necessary—and that this point was made to Moscow several times.

The court said erroneous instructions were given to the jury. The suit was instituted by Harold Curtis Jr. as administrator for the estate of Harold Curtis Sr., a mechanic employed by the Wade Goin Ford Co. in Hot Springs.

Miller was crushed to death between a truck parked in the garage and a car driven by Grady Miller of Little Rock.

The court said the jury should have been instructed it would have to find negligence on the part of Miller as a condition to liability and that it was an error for the lower court to determine that certain acts involved in the fatality did not constitute negligence.

The court said instruction to the jury that specific acts did not constitute negligence invaded the province of the jury.

coolly but it got a warm reception when it came time to vote. Some said Faubus turned up the heat.

School forces apparently consider the proposal so innocuous they have not bothered to oppose. The school people are tied up in a battle over a school financing initiative act, but they would find time to fight it if they considered it dangerous to the school system.

Several school officials say privately, "The (51) says nothing and does nothing. It would eliminate compulsory attendance in specific cases, but that's already been done by more general legislation."

The amendment does not say how the child who invokes it should be educated. It does not require a school district, for example, to establish special classes if all its schools are integrated. Nor does it require an integrated district to pay tuition to a non-integrated school the student might choose to attend.

It does not require a non-integrated district to take such a student tuition free.

The "inimical to welfare" provision leaves everything to the discretion of the board. Presumably a board would take steps to eliminate any condition "inimical" to a student's welfare.

The amendment bears only superficial resemblance to the controversial school closing amendment of 1960. That one provided for closing schools against integration and for paying tuition of students who might be thrown out of schools by such a move.

As written, Amendment 51 simply states an official government position. It apparently was designed to placate segregationists, but they have shown no great interest in it.

Nor has anyone else.

Top Games in Arkansas This Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Only one of the four unbeaten Class AA teams will be involved in conference action this weekend, but one of them risks its record against a Big 9 Conference foe.

Rogers takes on Harrison's Goblines in a Region 1AA clash that might turn things over at this point. The Mountaineers had a tough time whipping lovely Subiaco last week, and Harrison mauled Fayetteville earlier this season.

Other Region 1AA games show Fayetteville entertaining Joplin, Mo. while Springfield leads the neighborhood by playing East of Tulsa, Okla.

In another conference game, Subiaco seeks its second victory against Van Buren's Panthers.

Conway, Region 3AA's unbeaten leader, tries North Little Rock of the Big Nine Conference. The Class AA team has lacy runners in Bill Hardin and Phil Carter but North Little Rock has a good defense.

Little Rock Hall of the Big Nine plays host to another Region 3AA team, Benton. Other region games show Catholic High at Morrilton in a crucial game for both teams; Jacksonville against Cabot of Class A; Seney against Maheshvale; Clarksville at Russellville; and Joe T. Robinson of Class A against Sylvan Hills, newest entry in Region 3AA.

Jonesboro will test itself against White Station of Memphis and Helena goes against hapless Stuttgart in games involving Region 2AA teams. Both Helena and Jonesboro are unbeaten, and Jonesboro is heading toward a second straight region title.

Newport travels to West Memphis and Wynne seeks stability at Forrest City to round out the Region 2AA card.

Only one region game highlights the 4AA schedule this week. Hope, the erstwhile leader, at Magnolia. In other games Camden Fairview tries Bearden and Malvern welcomes Arkadelphia.

Camden, another Region 4AA team, goes against the Big Nine's leader, Pine Bluff.

Hogs Stress Defense to Rushing

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — For the first time this season, the Arkansas Razorbacks will emphasize rushing defense today as they continue preparation to meet the nation's No. 1 football team.

Couch Frank Broyles planned a full-scale workout in pads after drilling the Porkers in shorts for an hour and 20 minutes Monday. I can't remember when we've gone into the fifth game without knowing what our running defense was like," Broyles said. "The four teams we've played so far have been passing teams."

An observer said Monday's workout was one of the most spirited of the year and the Porkers worked with a seriousness that indicated they knew the caliber of Saturday's opposition.

The status of Billy Joe Mundy, the crack defender from North Little Rock, remained in doubt. Mundy, who injured an ankle in the Texas Christian game, was still hobbling Monday. He plays the "monster man" linebacking role.

Hog Cagers Report for Workouts

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Coach Glen Rose greeted sixteen basketball hopefuls, including four of last year's starters, as practice for the 1962-63 season started Monday.

Rose sent the Porkers through 80 minutes of conditioning and play execution drills.

Tommy Boyce of Fort Smith, Larry Wofford of Little Rock and Jim Wilson of Cherry Valley, all 6-6, and Jerry Rogers, 6-2, of North Little Rock are the returning starters. All are seniors.

Lost by graduation was Jerry Carlson of Sheridan, leading scorer in last year's 14-10 season.

Bob Anderson, 6-7, of Pine Bluff, also a senior, is the tallest man on the team.

Two junior college transfers joined the squad—Jim Way, 6-2, of Lincoln and Fort Smith JC, and Warren Vogel, 6-4, of Marion, Kan. and Hutchinson (Kan.) JC.

Rookie Leads Canadians

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP) — Joe Zuger, a rookie quarterback from Arizona State University, is the talk of the Canadian Football League today after a passing show unmatched in the league.

A former defensive halfback getting a chance on offense because of an injury to Bernie Faltney, Zuger fired eight touchdown passes Monday night in leading the Hamilton Tiger-Cats to a 67-21 rout of Saskatchewan.

The 22-year-old blonde from Pennsylvania, threw 32 passes, Bane, 6-2, of Branson, Mo.; Wayne Rivers, 6-4, of Amarillo, Tex.; Mike Smith, 6-7, of Vena; Charles Wilson, 6-2, of Fayetteville, and Billy Ray Wead, 6-1, of Jacksona.

Other squad members are Larry Hogue, a 66 junior from North Little Rock; Jim Magness, a 6-6 junior from Hot Springs; Skippy Coffman, a 6-1 senior from Little Rock, and Marvin Mann, a 6-6 junior from Hickory, Va.

The Razorbacks open against Kansas Dec. 3 in Barnhill Field House here.

Texas No. 1, Arkansas' in 7th Spot

By JACK KEEVER

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The coach of the University of Texas Longhorns, just rated the no. 1 college football team in the nation, said ratings mean very little to him.

"I'd feel slighted if we weren't in the top ten," Coach Darrell Royal said, "but being No. 1 doesn't make one iota of difference to me."

The Longhorns were No. 2 in last week's Associated Press poll and moved into the top spot after defeating traditional rival Oklahoma last Saturday 9-6.

The Longhorns replaced Alabama the defending national champion, which defeated Houston 14-3. The Crimson Tide fell to second place. Texas finished with 458 points and 21 first-place votes, compared to 437 points for Alabama. Bear Bryant's club collected 24 first-place votes, however.

The voting by a nationwide panel of sports writers and sportscasters was on the usual basis of 10 points for first place, 9 for second and so on.

Following Alabama, in order, were Southern California, Louisiana State, Mississippi, Ohio State, Arkansas, Northwestern, Washington and Wisconsin.

"I'll tell you one thing, though," said Royal, "Arkansas has reason to be slighted that they aren't ranked any higher."

Undefeated Arkansas, Texas' next opponent, advanced from No. 8 to No. 7 after defeating Baylor, 28-21, in a Southwest Conference game.

Royal said the Longhorn have no hopes of stopping Arkansas' offense this weekend, but can only try to slow them down.

"They have the ability to move the ball and move in a hurry," Royal said. "They score big and it's obvious we don't."

Arkansas and Texas play Saturday night in Memorial Stadium here in a game which many feel will decide the 1962 Southwest Conference championship. Both teams are undefeated through four games. Both have some of the best offensive figures in the nation.

and completed 23 for 493 yards. Three each of his TD passes went to end Hal Patterson and halfback Garney Henley, and one each to Dick Easterly and Tim Reid.

Just for good measure, Frank Cosentino threw five passes for the Tiger-Cats while Zuger got a rest. Cosentino completed four of the five, two for touchdowns.

I AM IN FAVOR OF THE FOLLOWING THAT WILL APPEAR ON THE BALLOT IN THE GENERAL ELECTION:

INITIATED ACT 1

The teachers need their salary increases badly. They need their sound retirement benefits. The teachers' salaries in Arkansas are among the lowest in the nation and has been falling behind every year with other states. Remember we voted on endorsement for 3% Sales Tax in 1958 and we got short-changed by the members of the General Assembly of 1961.

AMENDMENT 53

The Teachers' Retirement System needs to be kept actuarially sound. Remember teachers put in long hours at low pay and they need security after they finish teaching.

AMENDMENT 50

Cities need to get more improvements in order to attract industries. It is the responsibility of the citizens of each city to determine improvements required to attract industry.

AMENDMENT 54

It will be a big benefit to our state, good for the two-party system. It will make the vote count more accurate, insure greater secrecy and reduce the tears on marking the ballot.

I AM OPPOSED TO ONE AMENDMENT WHICH WILL APPEAR ON THE SAME BALLOT:

AMENDMENT 52

It calls for more money to pay higher salaries for our courthouse crowd. Remember that the Public Schools in our County need every dollar to keep on operating. One school in the County had only enough revenue to operate one more day after school was out!! The school teachers need salary increases more than the county office holders and they put in longer hours on their jobs.

There aren't many jobs paying over $5,000 a year in our state, outside political jobs. One of the Constitutional Offices in the County needs a complete major overhaul. Furthermore the salary increases aren't going to improve their lot. Did you know you voted to increase the salaries of members of the Legislature from $1200 to $3600 in a two-year period back in 1958? That meant each Legislator was making $60.00 per day in actual performance the last time and they didn't treat the school right!! Many Legislators went for "Pork Barrel" Policy and devised ways and means to go above their present constitutional pay limit. $60.00 per day is just too much money in our state right now!!

Why not install a system "How To Grade Your Legislator." So you can see for yourself and to form your own opinion.

Womens Golf Association Is Formed

The newly-formed Hope Women's Golf Association held its second monthly meeting Thursday, Oct. 11 at the Country Club. Sixteen members enjoyed sack lunches, together.

The officers, elected at the first meeting, were Mrs. Dick Watkins, President and Mrs. Byron Hefner, Vice-President. Mrs. Watkins appointed Mrs. Al Graves to serve as Secretary-Treasurer.

Thursday was selected as the day to be designated as "Ladies Golf Day." Regular business meetings will be held the second Thursday of each month.

Several of the members have voiced a desire to have golf lessons made available in Hope. As a result, Mrs. Mitch LaGrone has secured Don Murphy, the pro from Texarkana Country Club, to come to Hope to give a few lessons to those interested.

As most of the ladies are not yet expert golfers, it was decided to shorten the course for women. New tees are being constructed on several holes.

The President appointed the following committees: Publicity: Mrs. Al Graves, Mrs. Jack Gardner, Mrs. Lowell Harris.

Telephone: Mrs. L. L. Webb, Mrs. Emmett Wassell, Mrs. Forrest Hair.

Membership: Mrs. Lynn Harris, Mrs. William Routen, Mrs. Tom Hays.

Trull Takes Over Lead in Statistics

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—It didn't do it but that passing spurge put on by Don Trull of Baylor that almost caught Arkansas in the last half shot the Bear quarterback into the lead in Southwest Conference statistics.

Trull completed 16 (high for the season) of his 27 attempts against Arkansas as he sparked the Bears, stirring comeback after being down 28-0. Arkansas won 28-21.

Trull now has 38 completions in 72 attempts for 516 yards which is well off front passing. So Gibbs of Texas Christian, with 32 out of 66 for 403 yards, is second.

Walter McReynolds of Rice, the leader last week, dropped to fourth.

Billy Moore, the Porker Star, stayed out front in ballcarrying with 288 yards on 54 carries and he still is the total offense leader with 639 yards on 94 plays.

Moore suffered his first interception of the season but he still is far ahead of the passers in accuracy. His 30 out of 40 gives him an average of .75%. But his understudy, is next in accuracy with .70%.

Trull, whose 212 yards against Arkansas was high for the week, riding the bench lately against moved into second place in total right-handed pitching.

Sanferd and Terry in Last Series Game

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—After 13 days, 6,000 miles of jet travel and six ball games, the San Francisco Giants and New York Yankees are all even again going into today's seventh and final World Series game.

And for the third time in the rain-delayed marathon, it will be Jack Sanford of the Giants facing Ralph Terry of the Yanks. Sanford (24-7) shut out the Yanks with three hits and beat Terry (23-12) in the second series game, 2-0. Terry edged Sanford in the fifth game, 5-3. Then Tom Tresh broke a 2-2 tie with a three-run homer in the eighth inning.

The Giants have not won a series from the Yankees since 1922. In six series meetings, the Yanks hold a 4-2 edge, winning in 1923, 1936, 1937 and 1951. The Giants took the first two—in 1921 and 1922. In all, the Yanks have a 19-7 series record against all competition while the Giants are 5-9.

But records mean little to this Giant bunch, who were written off after their "June swoon." From the brink of disaster, they closed a four-game gap on the Los Angeles Dodgers in the final week of the National League season, then pulled out the pennant in the ninth inning of the third playoff game.

One down three different times in this just with the Yankees, they bounced back three times—the third time Monday when Billy Pierce and Orlando Cepeda led them to a 5-2 victory that snapped Whitey Ford's five-game series winning streak.

Pierce, an old American League, won his first series game with a three-hitter for his 13th consecutive victory at Candlestick Park, and Cepeda awoke from an 0-for-12 hitting slump. He had three hits—a double and two singles—drove in two runs and scored one.

The defeat left Ford, top winner in World Series history with 10, sharing the record for most series defeats—five.

Cepeda's outburst got him a place in the starting lineup for today's game, although he has been riding the bench lately against right-handed pitching.

Statement by Nixon Discounted

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown refused to accept Richard M. Nixon's statement that he would not be a candidate for President in 1964.

"I just don't believe Mr. Nixon when he says that," Brown told a nationwide radio-television audience Sunday on "Meet the Press." Nixon declared on the same program a week before that he would not be a favorite son candidate in California's 1964 presidential primary and would not, under any circumstances, accept a draft.

Brown said Nixon has issued challenges for a face-to-face television debate in the last three weeks when, Brown added, Nixon "knows he is behind." Brown said his Republican gubernatorial opponent wanted to arrange the appearances "on his own terms" so that "he could indulge in personalities that he can do so well."

In reply to questions, Brown said he is not making an issue out of the 1956 loan of $205,000 by Hughes Tool Co. to Nixon's brother Donald while Nixon was vice president.

Nixon has accused Brown and "his hatchmen" of a smear in raising questions about the transaction. The Republican candidate has said he had nothing to do with the loan.

places Cepeda at first base, will be in left field in place of Harvey Kuen, and Tom Haller will take over for catcher Ed Bailey. Haller always catches when Sandles pitches. The Yankees plan no lineup changes.

The weatherman predicted fair weather with the temperature in the mid 70s for the game.

The winners will split $32,578.32 and the losers will divide $241,718.88. Nobody knew how many shares were voted, but, on the basis of 30 for each, a winner would get about $12,000 and a loser about $8,000.
